

September 21, 2016

Seven Bank, Ltd.

Change of the Limit per ATM Withdrawal for Cash Cards and Credit Cards Issued Overseas

Change to 100,000 Yen per Withdrawal for Highly Secure IC Chip Transactions

From September 22, 2016, Seven Bank will change the limit per withdrawal at its ATMs when using cash cards and credit cards issued overseas, as shown below.

To prevent crimes using its ATMs, Seven Bank has implemented measures that include making all our ATMs compatible with International Standard IC cards and monitoring unlawful transactions through its system. With this change in withdrawal limits, which reflects the level of security of the cards, Seven Bank is strengthening its measures to prevent unlawful transactions while ensuring the convenience of its customers.

Seven Bank aims to continue to provide safe, secure and convenient ATM services to visitors from overseas.

1. Details of Change

Type of Transaction	Revised Limit	Previous Limit
Transactions using cards with an IC chip	100,000 yen per withdrawal	50,000 yen per withdrawal
Transactions using cards with a magnetic stripe	30,000 yen per withdrawal

2. Date of Change

September 22, 2016

3. Cards Covered

VISA (including PLUS), MasterCard (including Maestro and Cirrus), UnionPay, American Express, JCB, Discover and Diners Club Cash cards and credit cards issued outside Japan